Letter of Support for the NFDI Consortium Text+

Dear Professor Dr. Hinrichs,

the Board of Directors DINI e.V. is pleased to contribute its long-standing expertise in the standardization and networking of research and information infrastructures to Text+. In turn, we look forward to the substantial contributions by Text+ to the strategic aims of enhancing and networking research and information infrastructures.

DINI was founded to promote the improvement of information and communication services and the necessary development of information infrastructures at universities, both regionally and nationally. This also requires the joint development of standards and recommendations.

DINI members work together in eight working groups, organise conferences and workshops, prepare reports and develop exemplary solutions for subsequent use. They stimulate the development, application and further development of standards and support their practical use, e.g. through the DINI Certificate for Open Access Repositories of the Electronic Publishing Working Group (E-Pub) or the standardisation recommendations of the Competence Centre Interoperable Metadata (KIM).

With this letter, DINI is pleased to support the application of the TEXT+ consortium and looks forward to collaborating with the project.

Sincerely,

Dr. Helge Steenweg
Chairman of the Board DINI e.V.
